HOUSE BLEND

A mix of styles produces a truly unique—and spectacular—home

Under the gently sloping rooflines of this five-bedroom design, you'll find a luxurious blend of Prairie, Craftsman, and Contemporary architectural styles—along with every new-home amenity you could hope for. The wood, stone, and stucco of the front porch lead to a double-door entry and a two-story foyer. Formal living and dining rooms to the left and right give way to the kitchen at the center of the main level. The kitchen, breakfast area, and family room encircle a three-sided fireplace and share a clean, modern design featuring built-in woodworking and French doors leading to a covered porch. The first-floor master suite features a sitting area and a huge walk-in closet with intelligent access to the laundry room. The skylit master bath is a relaxing getaway.

(this page) The open design connects the foyer to the dining room and living room. (opposite) The family room is a bit more casual, with high ceilings and a pair of skylights.
